WITH MORE THAN 100 METALWORKING PRODUCTS FOR BUILDERS

Rangiora Bakery

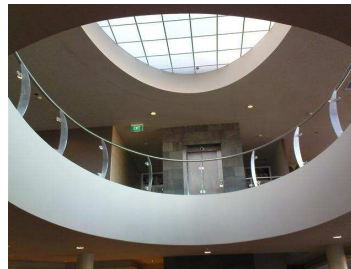

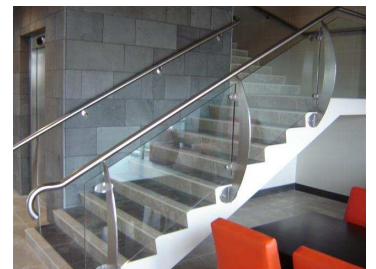

This month we feature the Rangiora Bakery balustrades. The Rangiora Bakery has legendary reputation for quality. The recent upgrade to the café part of their operations has further improved Rangiora Bakery as a destination to visit.

Metalcraft assisted with the design of the balustrades and stairwell handrails. The final design included unique curved balustrade posts which compliment the oval shape of the viewing space between the ground and first floors, and the overhead skylight. Flat glass and curved perforated powdercoated steel panels are used for most of the balustrading, and the stairwell handrails also use curved shapes.

Ron Van Til, owner of Rangiora Bakery says "The company undertook a difficult design. Execution by Metalcraft was perfect. Functionality works well and the results for the café are fantastic."

Our core capabilities include :

- Fences and gates
- Internal and external balustrades
- Internal and external handrails
- Aluminium safety walkways and roof access
- Signs and plinths
- Architectural metalwork
- Ornamental metalwork

Internal Balustrades

This month we're featuring internal balustrades we've built.

Our experience with internal balustrades spans from small simple residential balustrades with glass, steel bars, mesh or wire infills, to the most complex large commercial balustrades and curved shapes. With 20 years experience and over 3 balustrades built, we can handle most jobs.

We are a design and build company and don't use imported prefabricated componentry. Installations are either our staff, your staff, or a glazier. We are effective project managers.

We welcome the opportunity to discuss, design, quote and build the most complex internal balustrades for the most discerning buyers.

Ian's thoughts

I hope you, your staff and families, and your business were not too greatly affected by the recent quakes, and that the government announcements were positive for you.

At Metalcraft we are continuing to be proactive to grow our business and provide our staff with some certainty in their careers. As our city rebuilds we know we will grow our business so much effort is being focused on putting systems in place to allow and support the growth.

Over the last 20 years we've been fortunate to install many metalwork features throughout Canterbury. The old saying "the more you do, the more you learn" certainly applies for us as we avoid many design and project management pitfalls. If you need metalworking services please give us a try.
